To Whom It May Concern,

I am happy to recommend Wright Construction Services, Inc. as a contractor to any school district securing bids for construction. My experience with Wright Construction included multiple projects during my tenure as Chief Financial Officer for the Wentzville R-IV School District between 2008 and 2013. The projects totaled over $12 million, primarily to construct building additions in a rapidly growing school district. In each case, time was of the essence and Wright Construction delivered a high quality product.

My experience with Wright Construction indicated a high degree of professionalism among their entire team. Projects were bid competitively, schedules were aggressive and thorough, and subcontractor management was highly effective. A strength of Wright Construction is their ability to work through the unforeseen issues that often arise on renovation or addition projects. They generate solutions in a manner that minimizes cost and maintains an effective schedule.

Wright Construction has high expectations for the subcontractors who work on their projects and they provide the supervision necessary to ensure the work gets done correctly and timely. When questions arose regarding scope of work or the completeness of subcontractor bids, Wright Construction managed those situations effectively for the benefit of the district. They also provided good follow-up during the warranty period following project completion.

Wentzville R-IV School District was in the market on a regular basis for construction to accommodate an ever increasing student enrollment. The district and the design team always appreciated seeing the Wright Construction name on the bid list because of their ability to complete projects in a highly effective manner. If you would like to discuss their qualifications further, please contact me at 816-892-1300.

Sincerely,

Dr. Kari Monsees
